Dear Mr. Goldenring:

It is kind of you to take the time to write. I do not have the time for as full a reply as I would prefer, but I will answer your questions briefly.

I do not believe anyone man could gave committed the crime; I believe the Commission's best evidence proved Oswald did not, and I do not know who did.

I do not think that any of us writing these books, with the exception of Manchester, did it for profit alone. I have as yet made no profit.

You misunderstood me on the Lomax show. I work close to 20 hours every day. What I said is that I have had no income.

I do not have a picture of myself and my family, but if I ever have one made, I will be honored to send you one.

I think it is both encouraging and wonderful that one of your age has the concern to become interested in a major national issue, to make his own independent studies and to formulate his own opinions.

I am sending you herewith a copy of WHITEWASH II because you have made it clear you would like one.

Because of your special circumstances and the fact that, as a student, your means are quite limited, whatever you feel you can afford to pay for it will pay for it in full. The regular price is $4.95.

Enclosed are some order blanks in case you know anybody else who wants one.

Sincerely yours,

Harold Weisberg
